CMP No. 972 of 2004 in RFA No. 32 of 1996.

21.5.2008 Present: Mr. A.K. Bansal, Addl. A.G. for the appellants-applicants.

Mr. H.K. Bhardwaj, counsel for the respondent.

CMP No. 972 of 2004.

Mr. A.K. Bansal, learned Additional Advocate General has submitted that the entire amount as claimed in the application has been refunded by the respondent as per copies of receipts supplied by the respondent to the office of Advocate General, therefore, no further amount is left to be recovered from the respondent. Hence, the application has become infructuous and accordingly disposed of.
